This location once housed a press, which has since moved. I had been observing the site for long, thinking of doing something meaningful here

SC says ECI's roll revision drive mandated in Constitution, but questions timing

MI News Service, New Delhi: In a landmark judgement with possible long time consequences, the Supreme Court on Thursday flatly rejected the argument that the Election Commission of India (ECI) did not have any power to carry out. the Special Intensive Revision drive in poll-bound Bihar, but questioned the timing of the SIR drive in a pollbound state despite it went to the "root of democracy and power to vote'

While rejecting the argument that the poll panel did not have any power to carry it out, the top court said the ECI also justified the exercise and said Aadhaar wasn't a 'proof of citizenship". A bench of Justices Sudhanshu Dhulia and Joymalya Bagchi questioned Dwivedi over the exclusion of Aadhaar card in the SIR drive in Bihar and said the ECI had nothing to do with citizenship of a person and it was the Ministry of Home Affairs' domain.

Dwivedi responded while referring to Article 326 of the Constitution and said every voter has to be an Indian citizen and "Aadhaar card is not proof of citizenship". Justice Dhulia said, "If you are to check citizenship under SIR of electoral rolls in Bihar, then you should have acted early; it is a bit late." The bench, in the meantime, rejected the submission of the petitioners' counsel that the ECI did not have power to conduct any such exercise in Bihar for it was mandated under the Constitution and the last such exercise happened in 2003.While referring to the petitioners' contentions, the bench said the ECI had to answer three guestions as the SIR exercise in Bihar went to "root of democracy and power to vote"

The questions of the petitioners, including political parties and their leaders aside from civil society members and organisations, deal with the ECI's power to conduct such an exercise and its timing.

Dwivedi said with passage of time, electoral rolls need to be revised to look into inclusion or exclusion of voter names with the SIR being the one exercise to do it.

He asked if the ECI did not have the power to revise the electoral roll then who did. The poll panel, however, assured the top court of not leaving out anyone from the voter list without an opportunity to be heard. Earlier in the day, the top court commenced hearing on a batch of pleas challenging the Election Commission's decision to undertake a special intensive revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in poll-bound Bihar. Senior advocate Gopal Sankaranarayanan, appearing for one of the petitioners, said the revision of electoral rolls can be permitted under the Representation of People Act. The entire SIR will cover around 7.9 crore citizens, he said, and even the voter ID and Aadhaar cards are not being considered.

Over 10 petitions have been filed in the SC, including one by NGO 'Association for Democratic Reforms', the lead petitioner.

RJD MP Manoj Jha and Tri-namool Congress MP Mahua Moitra, Congress' K C Venugopal, NCP (SP) leader Supriya Sule, CPI leader D Raja, Samajwadi Party's Harinder Singh Malik, Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Arvind Sawant, JMM's Sarfraz Ahmed and Dipankar Bhattacharya of CPI (ML) have also moved the top court, seeking direction for quashing the EC order.

Meanwhile, a Delhi court has discharged 10 TMC leadersand MPs, including the Party's Rajya Sabha leader Derek O'Brien, Sagarika Ghose and Saket Gokhale, in a case linked to a protest outside the Election Commission of India last year despite prohibitory orders being in place democratic country, not from China, believes Arunachal CM

MI News Service, Itanagar : Arunachal Pradesh Chief Minister Pema Khandu has opined that next Dalai Lama will be from a free and democratic country and definitely "not from China".

He, however, said the process of selecting the next Dalai Lama starts only after an incumbent passes away and hoped and prayed that the 14th Dalai Lama will live for another 40 years. "In fact, as I said, His Holiness' health is very good. And this time too -- on the occasion of his 90th birthday celebration (on July 6) -- His Holiness said that he will live to be around 130 years old. So we all pray and I am very hopeful that he will live to be 130," Khandu said here on Thursday replying to a related query.

The Arunachal Pradesh Chief minister, who is a follower of the Dalai Lama and a devout Buddhist, said he, however, doesn't know the process of how the next Dalai Lama will be selected, how it will happen or the details, but emphasised that there is a well established procedure. "The entire rules are set, all procedures are set. There's no point in speculating about it now. There is no point now in speculating where he will be born, in which region, whether it will be in India or Tibet. On this issue, there is only one clarity, which His Holiness has perhaps said in an interview, that the next Dalai Lama will be born in a free world," he said. Asked whether he was indicating that the next Dalai Lama would not be from China and could be from somewhere else, Khandu said, "Yes, definitely not from China because there is no democracy there." "So wherever there is democracy... it can be anywhere in the world where there is democracy," he said. When pointed out that Tibet is also under Chinese rule, the Chief minister responded, "That is why, I am not

US extends suspension of reciprocal tariffs till Aug 1, relief to Indian exporters

MI News Service, New Delhi / Washington (DC) : Providing a major relief to Indian exporters, the US government has extended the suspension of its April 2 reciprocal tariffs until August 1, which will also provide additional time for New Delhi and Washington to resolve the pending issues to finalise an interim trade deal. India, which is negotiating a trade pact with the US for the past couple of weeks, was not included in the list of countries that received tariff letters from the Trump administration on Monday. The Trump administration, on Monday, sent the first tranche of letters to various countries detailing the tariffs that the US will impose on products from those countries entering American markets from August 1. In what could be said as an "eleventh hour" reversal. the United States delayed imposing Donald Trump's "Liberation Day" reciprocal tariffs on India until August 1 2025. This suspension of tariffs—which was originally set to be lifted on July 9 2025signalled that India and the US were nearing the interim deal ahead of the bilateral trade agreement (BTA).Back in April, Trump announced reciprocal tariffs on many countries. Among them, India was slapped with a 26 per cent reciprocal tariff. However, the industrialist-turnedpresident Trump quickly turned around, pausing the implementation for 90 days, i.e., till July 9, this Wednesday. And now, with New Delhi and Washington closing in on the final round of negotiations on clinching an interim trade deal, the first tranche of the BTA seems to be on

Nurse murder twist: Shocking arrest unravels darker mystery

MI News Service, Maheshtala: In a shocking development in the Mahestala nurse murder case, police have arrested Sheikh Nasir Ali, husband of the deceased nurde Shilpi Bibi, in connection with her death. Authorities cited discrepancies in his statements and circumstantial evidence as the basis for his arrest . Investigator now believe further interrogation is necessary to uncover the full truth.

The case took a grim turn last Saturday night during Muharram, when the body of 33-year-old Shilpi Bibi was discovered just 200 meters from her residence, with a veil tightly wrapped around her neck. The preliminary autopsy confirmed she had been strangled to death. According to police sources, the nurse had left her house at around 2:00 a.m. after receiving a phone call claiming her husband was involved in a violent altercation nearby. Her husband, Sheikh Nasir Ali, allegedly received another call around 2:30 a.m., informing him that his wife was lying unconscious in an alley. Upon reaching the location, she was found dead. Investigators suspect that the call may have been a trap to lure Shilpi Bibi out of her house. The circumstances leading up to her murder, and the events immediately following, have raised serious suspicions. While the husband maintains innocence, inconsistencies in his version of events have put him under the scanner. Despite four days passing since the incident, the motive behind the murder remains unclear. Was it a case of domestic betrayal, or is someone else involved? The police continue to investigate all angles as the case grows murkier with each passing day.

Bengali migrants targeted in Delhi, CM Mamata condemns

MI News Service, Kolkata: West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee has strongly condemned the alleged harassment of Bengali migrant workers at Jai Hind Colony in Delhi's Vasant Kunj. Expressing deep anguish and outrage, she took to social media platform X to slam the BJP-led Delhi administration for what she termed as a "calculated assault on basic human rights.' According to Banerjee, water and electricity supplies to several Bengali-speaking families in the area were abruptly disconnected. When residents arranged for private water tankers, the Delhi Police and RPF allegedly blocked them from supplying water. She claimed this amounted to a forced eviction under the guise of administrative procedure, despite the matter being sub judice in court since December. "These are the very people who helped build Delhi with their labour. Now they are being treated as outsiders in their own country," Banerjee wrote. She warned that Bengal would not remain silent if such oppression continued, and vowed to stand beside every voice of dissent. Reports of assaults, wage theft, identity document seizure, and police apathy against Bengali workers have surfaced in several BJP-ruled states. In response, Trinamool MP Samirul Islam has intervened and arranged safe return for affected workers. Mamata Banerjee and MPs Yusuf Pathan and Samirul have already written to Union Home Minister Amit Shah. raising concerns over migrant safety.

The Calcutta High Court, taking cognizance of repeated harassment cases, has directed the Chief Secretary to take immediate steps.

Banerjee accused the BJP of failing to divide Bengal internally, and now attempting to marginalize Bengalis across India. "Speaking Bengali does not make anyone Bangladeshi. Every Indian citizen has equal rights-language cannot be a basis for exclusion," she asserted.

Disqualified candidates barred from SSC recruitment: HC

MI News Service, Kolkata: In a significant setback to the West Bengal School Service Commission (WBSSC), the Calcutta High Court's Division Bench comprising Justices Sougata Bhattacharyya and Soumen Sen has upheld the earlier single bench ruling, barring 'identified disqualified' candidates from participating in the fresh SSC recruitment process.

The controversy stems from the Supreme Court's recent verdict that led to the termination of nearly 26,000 teachers and non-teaching staff appointments, declaring them illegal. The apex court also directed the state to initiate a new recruitment drive within a specified timeframe.

Following the Court's directive, the SSC released a fresh notification in late May. However, litigants alleged that several of the 'disqualified' candidates had applied again, violating the spirit of the Supreme Court's order.

On Monday, the state and SSC clarified that such candidates would not be granted age relaxation. However, the bench observed this as inadequate. Justice Bhattacharyya ruled that all "specifically identified disqualified" candidates must be excluded, and any applications already submitted by them stand void.

State imposes strict luggage limits on app-based bike taxis

MI News Service, Kolkata: The West Bengal Transport Department has introduced strict regulations on the size and weight of luggage allowed on appbased bike taxi services. The move aims to enhance passenger safety and reduce the risk of road accidents caused by oversized or heavy baggage. As per the new directives, passengers will now be permitted to carry bags weighing no more than 10 kilograms when riding on bike taxis. Additionally, the length of the bag must not exceed 36 centimeters. If the bag is carried by hanging on both sides of the bike, each side's extension must remain within 15 centimeters.A senior official from the department noted that, "Many passengers often hang large bags on either side of the bike, which destabilizes the vehicle and poses a serious collision risk with adjacent vehicles." The new measures, he added, are aimed solely at protecting both passengers and commuters.

To ensure compliance and traceability, all appbased bike taxis must now also operate with mandayellow number tory plates. Violations of the new norms will invite strict penalties against the operators or riders concerned.

Cutting edge technological devices commissioned at Naihati depot for expediting wagon overhauling Service, Kolkata: Naihati Carriage and Wagon (C&W) Depot plays a crucial role in maintaining safety, reliability and efficiency of train operations of Sealdah Division by ensuring faster wagon Routine Over Hauling (ROH). The all important depot is responsible for the maintenance and repair of Railway carriages and wagons, ensuring they are in good working condition for safe operation.

Installation of cutting-edge technological devices in Railway operations is crucial for improving efficiency, safety, reliability and reducing downtime for trains. It can also optimize resource allocation, minimize delay and improve overall productivity. As a part of that continuous endeavour, Shri Rajeev Saxena, DRM/Sealdah, has introduced a few sophisticated automated machines at Naihati Depot as detailed hereunder :-

CTRB Condition Monitoring System – Cartridge Tapered Roller Bearings (CTRB) are used in various rolling stock to reduce friction and ensure smooth operation. During Routine Over Hauling (ROH), CTRB checking is mandatory but most of the depots depend on manual checking which involves human error. With the introduction of new monitoring system at Naihati, human error component will be minimized to a great extent. Getting the condition report in digital format will provide a detailed tracking of failure related issues detected during maintenance. This digital machine will help Railways to necessary upgradation for better and faster maintenance.

Welding Simulator – Indian Railways' vast fleet depends on various maintenance in which welding is deeply integrated. Efficiency and periodic training of welders is a major challenge to Railways. Welding simulator is a Virtual Reality (VR) based modern machine to develop better welding skills in a controlled environment to replicate the experience of real welding without using any consumables. This machine is cost effective, provides real time feedback and generate reports regarding welding technique including angle, welding speed, arc length etc. This supports welders Overhauling of various braking components at Naihati Yard Naihati depot is a major wagon ROH depot for Sealdah Division. A large no. of special premium rakes are also examined which requires 100% brake power. Because of relentless efforts of Shri Rohit Ranjan, Sr. DME/SDAH, overhauling of training, skill assessment, performance tracking of various are now being done at Naihati Depot itself which will, in turn, help in reducing dependency on workshops like Liluah & Kanchrapara and will also help to reduce the average wagon detention time for the sake of more effective traffic operation.

Overhauling of Distribution Valve (DV) - Naihati C&W depot examines a large no. of premium rakes which requires 100% brake power. But the supply from feeding depots and workshop is not sufficient to meet the huge demand of this depot during maintenance. Overhauling of Distribution Valve (DV) has also been started at depot level in presence of DRM/Sealdah yesterday to increase yard efficiency and ensure better wagon overhauling.

Adopting aforementioned cutting-edge technologies will definitely embolden Naihati Carriage & Wagon Depot with faster outturn and better accuracy. Augmenting new machines will certainly improve operational efficiency of Sealdah Division by reducing mainvarious braking components tenance costs and providin like SAB, BC, LSD, APM etc. better services to passengers. tenance costs and providing

10 Students Awarded Fully Funded Global Education at GIIS Through Flagship Scholarship Programme

Durgapur : To celebrate talent, ambition and potential, Global Indian International School (GIIS) hosted a grand felicitation ceremony on July 9, 2025, at Aerocity, Delhi, to celebrate the latest cohort of Global Citizen Scholarship (GCS) recipients. This marked the 18th edition of the prestigious GCS programme.

This year's cohort includes 10 exceptional students-eight from India and two from the Middle East-recognised for their outstanding academic accomplishments, leadership abilities, and dedication to excellence

Established in 2008, the GCS is GIIS's flagship initiative, embodying the institution's commitment to educational equity and quality. The scholarship covers 100% of tuition fees, boarding, and living expenses for the crucial senior secondary education years (Grades 11 and 12), enabling scholars to thrive at GIIS SMART Campus, Singapore. Known for its worldclass infrastructure, top-tier facilities, and highly skilled teaching staff, GIIS offers students the choice between the CBSE and IBDP curricula. Under this flagship programme, students also receive boarding, lodging, and a generous stipend, with zero tuition fees for the entire duration. The total investment amounts to Rs 1 crore per student for two years, fully funded by the GCS programme.

"The Global Citizen Scholarship goes beyond financial support; it empowers dreams," remarked Mr Pramod Tripathi, Director, Academic, Global Schools Group. "We are investing in future leaders-students with vision, drive, and a commitment to not only excel in their careers but also make meaningful contributions to society. We take pride in supporting young minds who dare to think globally and act purposefully assessed not only academic performance but also leadership potential, community engagement, problem-solving skills, and a dedication to driving positive change.

One of the recipients, Nishtha Nirmita Mahanta from Moran Town, Assam, reflecting on the impact of the scholarship, shared, "This opportunity has transformed my life trajectory. It's more than studying at a prestigious institution; it's about being part of a global community that encourages us to dream big, aim high, and serve well

The ceremony, attended by students, parents, and dignitaries, underscored the transformative power of education and reaffirmed GIIS's commitment to creating opportunities for talented students worldwide, regardless of background or location.

"With each new cohort, the Global Citizen Scholarship redefines what's possible when opportunity meets potential, stated Mr Rajeev Koul, Deputy COO, Global Schools Group. "As these 10 bright scholars embark on their journey, they carry not only the aspirations of their families and communities but also the enduring values of leadership, empathy, and excel-lence instilled by GIIS."

Indian enterprises in Singapore set to ride on biz adaptation grant to counter US tariff impact

Singapore : The Singapore Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry has welcomed the government's timely introduction of the Business Adaptation Grant to help local entrepreneurs navigate and adjust to the evolving cross-border tax landscape, especially impacted by the US trade tariffs.

"This grant is available to all local businesses, especially Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs)," the business chamber said. The Singapore government will launch a Business Adaptation Grant in October to help companies in the city-state adapt to the new US tariff environment, the Singapore Economic Resilience Taskforce (SERT) announced on Thursday. The grant will be capped at SGD 1,00,000 (USD 78,000) per company, said Minister for Manpower Tan See Leng. While Singapore has not received a letter, neighbouring countries such as Malaysia and Indonesia will face tariffs of 25 per cent and 32 per cent, respectively. 'This initiative reflects a proactive and strategic approach to supporting enter-prises, particularly SMEs, as they face increasing complexities in international trade," the Singapore Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (SICCI) said. With global tariff structures becoming increasingly dynamic, businesses must be equipped with the necessary tools, knowledge, and financial support to realign their operations and maintain competitiveness, said the Chambers.

This grant will offer critical support to companies in reviewing supply chains, recalibrating pricing strategies, exploring alternative markets, and investing in trade advisory capabilities, SICCI said, stressing that it is "fully prepared to provide unwavering support to our members and the wider business community in accessing and leveraging this grant". "We will work closely with government agencies, particularly Enterprise Singapore, to ensure that businesses, especially those from the Indian business community, can effectively benefit from this initiative and develop sustainable trade strategies in response to the shifting global trade Environment," Neil Parekh, Chairman of the Singapore Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, said.

Tan pointed out that small and medium enterprises will likely be able to receive a higher percentage of co-funding from the government than multinational firms.

Small and medium enterprises employ around twothirds of Singapore's workers, he added. Singapore plays an international hub role in international businesses' global dealings, the US being one of the main lucrative markets, according to international business analysis. The grant will cover two categories of businesses, and eligible companies will get support for a "time-bound period" of two years, according to reports.

Ice baths are booming in popularity - but they come with health risks

 \oplus

(The Conversation) Walk through any trendy suburb and you might find a new "wellness" studio offering ice baths or "contrast therapy" (a sauna and ice bath combo).

Scroll social media, and you're likely to come across influencers preaching the cold plunge gospel with cult-like zeal

Ice baths have gone mainstream. Initially practised mainly among high-performance athletes, cold water immersion is now a booming business model: sold as recovery, discipline and therapy all in one.

But the benefits are questionable and, importantly, ice baths can have health risks - particularly for people who have limited experience using them.

From Roman times to today

Cold water immersion isn't a new concept

The "frigidarium" - a room with a cold plunge pool or bath - was a feature in most Roman bathhouses.

For decades, athletes have used cold water immersion. such as swims in cold water, for recovery

But in recent years, with the proliferation of commercial cold plunge centres, there's been an explosion in people using ice baths recreationally.

Many people are even setting up their own ice baths at home. The global cold plunge tub market was valued at close to USD 338 million in 2024 and is projected to reach nearly USD 483 million by 2033.

Social media shows serene influencers meditating through the pain, claiming it boosts mental health, serotonin, testosterone, and their metabolism. But does the evidence stack up

Ice baths can reduce muscle soreness after intense training, however the effect is modest and short-lived.

Some research shows cold water immersion can improve mood after a single exposure in young, healthy people, but other research doesn't find these benefits.

Most claims about mental health, testosterone and weight loss aren't backed by strong evidence. Rather, they're anecdotal and amplified by influencers

Ice baths can reduce muscle sore ness after intense training, however the effect is modest and short-lived. Some research shows cold water immersion can improve mood after a single exposure in young, healthy people, but other research doesn't find these benefits.

What does an ice bath involve?

At commercial establishments, patrons can often use the ice baths as they please during a booked session. Ice bath temperatures often range anywhere from 3°C to 15°C. There normally isn't actual ice in the bath, but some people add blocks of ice to their ice baths at home.

Businesses offering ice baths don't always actively supervise patrons or monitor a person's time in the ice bath. They may leave their customers to self-regulate, assuming people will know to get out of the water before they pass their body's limits.

So what are the risks?

Cold water immersion triggers a powerful physiological response. When you hit cold water below 15°C, your body launches into cold shock. Gasping occurs and breathing becomes rapid and uncontrollable. Heart rate spikes. Blood pressure rises

Staying in the water for too long can lead to hypothermia, a condition where a person's core body temperature drops dangerously low.

Shivering may begin within minutes in cold water. Confusion or fainting are more serious signs that hypothermia may be developing.

Occasionally, this "cold shock" response can lead to a heart attack or stroke - especially if you have an undiagnosed condition affecting your heart, blood vessels or brain.

As far back as 1969, researchers found even experienced swimmers could struggle after just a few minutes in cold water. Participants were immersed in water at 4.7°C while fully clothed and asked to swim as if trying to reach safety. Some developed serious respiratory distress and had to stop swimming within as little as 90 seconds, well before any measurable drop in core body temperature.

Even after you get out, your core temperature can continue to fall - a phenomenon known as afterdrop. So you can encounter problems, such as collapse, even after leaving the water.

And even young, healthy people can be caught off guard. The body isn't designed to endure freezing water for extended periods.

Recently one of us (Sam Cornell) had to provide first aid at an ice bath venue in Sydney. A young man collapsed after staying in an ice bath for ten minutes. He was shivering uncontrollably and clearly suffering from cold shock.

Cold exposure can also cause long-term damage to nerves and blood vessels in the hands and feet, known as nonfreezing cold injury. This is more likely if someone spends an extended period immersed in cold water. Symptoms such as numbness, pain and sensitivity to cold can persist for years.

6 tips for safer recreational ice bath use

The ice bath trend is part of a broader wellness movement, promoted to young men in particular, where discomfort is repackaged as discipline. Push through the pain. Master your body. If you feel terrible, you must be doing it right.

But behind the hype lies a less appealing truth. Ice baths can be dangerous. We advise caution, but if you do choose to try an ice bath, treat it seriously and follow these tips to reduce the risk of harm.

1. Talk to your doctor: get checked out first. If you of your family have any heart, stroke or respiratory risk, skip it

2. Know your limits: being fit doesn't protect you from cold shock

3. Start gradually: begin with short warm to cold showers before full immersion

4. Never go alone: always have someone with you, espe cially if you're new to ice baths

5. Keep it short and watch the temperature: limit ses sions to 3-5 minutes and remember, problems can still occur after you get out

6. Recognise the signs of danger: symptoms such as shivering, numbress and confusion can all seem like part of the experience to someone bent on pushing themselves. But these can be signs of hypothermia

Nitish Kumar Reddy's twin strikes key highlight of balanced first session of play at Lord's (Day 1, Lunch)

 \oplus

LONDON [UK] : Nitish Kumar Rerddy's twin strikes in his first over were the highlights of a balanced first session for India on day one of the third Test against England at Lord's on Thursday.

At the end of the first session, England was 83/2, with Joe Root (24*) and Ollie Pope (12*) unbeaten at the crease, having formed a 39-run partnership. After England won the toss and opted to bat first, the openers Zak Crawley and Ben Duckett were watchful against the fiery pace of Jasprit Bumrah and Akash Deep, who beat their bat several times, on a pitch which had a little grass, but not a lot of carry initially.

Having scored 15 runs in the first seven overs, Zak Crawley broke the shackles in the eighth over by Akash, striking him for three boundaries, one through the covers, one edged over the slip cordon, and the last one being the best of the lot.

At the end of 13 overs, England was 35/0, with Duckett (19*) and Crawley (18*) unbeaten., having gone through the first hour safely espite some threatening bowling. All-rounder Nitish Kumar

Reddy was introduced to the attack immediately after drinks break. The move paid off handsomely as he managed to make Duckett and Crawley give away their wickets, caught by wicket-keeper-batter Rishabh Pant. Duckett went back for a 40-ball 23 (three fours) while Crawley (18 in 43 balls with four boundaries). England was suddenly in soup, at 44/2

Duckett got dismissed while attempting a pull, while the deliv-ery brushed past Crawley's gloves into Pant's hands.

Joe Root joined Ollie Pope, and boundaries with two in Mohammed Siraj's 18th over, Root brought up England's 50-run mark in 16.4 overs. With a flick through mid-wicket and a drive through covers, Root asserted his intent to score big and make amends for the last two disappointing matches.

Root and Pope made sure that England ended the session without any further damage.

Gambhir was speaking to Sony Sports Network, the official broadcasters of the ongoing India's five-Test tour to England, during the third Test at Lord's.

Speaking to the former teammate Cheteshwar Pujara, now handling broadcast duties as a commentator, Gambhir said, 'Probably this is the first time that the transition is happening in all three departments. I think for me, first-class cricket is the most important format, back home.

He also expressed that for this team and him, it is about "growing, learning, and competing" every day.

"It is about fighting every day. And it is about representing the tri-colour every day. Gautam Gambhir is not important. Indian cricket is important. Everyone has the right to have an opinion about the culture of that dressing room. And every

While Gambhir has been a successful white-ball coach, having won the ICC Champions Trophy 2025 as a head coach and overseeing a fiery, in-form young T20I team under the cap taincy of Suryakumar Yadav, his Test returns so far have not been great, with India having lost their first home series in 12 years to New Zealand, that too in a 0-3 whitewash last year and surrendering the Border-Gavaskar Trophy back to Australia after a decade, with a 1-3 loss away from home. This cost India a hat-trick of appearances in the ICC World Test Championship final.

So far under his coaching, India has just won four out of their 12 Tests, losing seven and Joe Root joined Ollie Pope, and with two boundaries in Mohammed Siraj's 18th over, Root brought up England's 50run mark in 16.4 overs. With a flick through mid-wicket and a drive through covers, Root asserted his intent to score big and make amends for the last two disappointing matches.

Root and Pope made sure that England ended the session without any further damage.

get that milestone, Starc said about his battles with injuries, "I have looked after or tried to look after my body and be able to find ways through pain barriers to make an impact for the team." "I have been a player that has been injured and left them a man down before, and I never wanted to do that again. So to find ways when things were not going well, or things were sore, or if I was carrying something, to still be able to push through and finish games and still be impactful, was part of it," added the 35year-old.

Starc also said that he has also found a lot of help dealing with injuries from his trainers, physios, and teammates, collectively "helping him to keep playing and wanting to compete and still be a part of the group." Having started off as a wicketkeeper during his junior cricket days, joining the elite 400-Test wicket club for Australia would be an occasion to celebrate for Australia. It was only at the age sharing the field with some of the great pacers from game's Australia like Mitchell Johnson, Peter Siddle etc.

"I did not think I would play one (Test)," said Starc.

"It is pretty humbling to play that much. A huge honour, probably something more to reflect on when I am finished."

"Anytime you are mentioned alongside some of those names, like Glenn (and) I have been fortunate enough to play with Mitchell Johnson (73 Tests), 'Sidds' (Peter Siddle, 67 Tests) and 'Rhino' (Ryan Harris, 27 Tests) and to have a bit of relationship with Brett (Lee, 76 Tests), I have been very lucky through cricket to a meet those guys and then play alongside or learn different pieces from them.

"I have had Craig McDermott (71 Tests) as bowling coach, and (current Australia assistant coach) Dan Vettori (113 Tests, 362 wickets) has taken a lot of Test wickets as well, so if I do get impact along (the way) in those games, to get somewhere near the 400-mark has been good fun," he added.

While the fast inswinger is his stock delivery, he still is committed to developing and evolving his skillset with time. Wobbleseam deliveries have added a lot to his game in long-format.

"I have always had a little bit of air speed, so there was a point of difference at times," said Starc.

"I still do not have all the skills, but I did not have perhaps the amount of skills that I have been able to develop down the road.

"A lot of it was try and swing it and try and bowl fast, and my role was to try and take wickets and attack early.

"Fortunately, two of my best mates are two of the best fast bowlers in the world, so you pick up a few things along the way and develop those skills to hopefully play a really big role in bowling attacks," he concluded.
